In-house efforts were made to restore it, but no break through has been achieved. 2. M/s TE Connectivity, OEM was therefore, contacted, with a request to submit their offer for Load cell including amplifier/transmitter (Model No: ARD154). In response, M/s TE Connectivity have submitted partial offer for Load cell amplifier /transmitter with (MOQof10) and have regretted to submit their offer for Load cell (FN3000,200KN) citing that, the product is non saleable. Accordingly, M/s TE Connectivity was requested to propose any alternative model. However, it has been intimated that no alternative model is available with them. 3. M/s Rudra Sensor, Ahmadabad, a known source vendor, contacted for repair of break down machine /test rig.- Based on the technical parameters of the defective Load Cell and other items. M/s Rudra Sensors have suggested an alternate model RSL203, 20T Load cell with RS-201 Load Cell amplifier /transmitter. The same has been technically examined and found to be almost similar. Thus, the proposed load cell can be installed and integrated with our existing EMRU Test Rig with minor modification. Further, the proposed item is NABL Class I/Class II, thus it would meet the quality standards as well. 4.
